A FEW NOTES ABOUT THE AUTHOR
Elie Wiesel

WIESEL, Eliezer 1928-

Elie Wiesel was born on September 20, 1928, in Sighet, Transylvania. His parents owned and operated a store, and his mother was also a teacher. He credits his maternal grandfather with his love of storytelling. As a child and adolescent, Wiesel studied the Talmud, Hasidism, and the Kabala. During the years when he was studying so seriously, he thought it was a waste of time to read novels.

Just after Passover in 1944, when Wiesel was 15, the Nazis sent all of the Jews in Sighet to the concentration camp at Auschwitz-Birkenau. He and his father were later transferred to Buchenwald. He was 16 when the war ended and he was released. Wiesel traveled to France and was reunited with his two older sisters.

Wiesel studied at the Sorbonne from 1948 until 1951. He learned the French language and took courses in literature, psychology, and philosophy. He tutored other students, directed a church choir, and worked as a translator to support himself.

Soon after his release from the concentration camps, Wiesel realized that he had a duty as a survivor to let others know what had happened. He was encouraged in this endeavor by Francios Muriae, a Catholic writer whom Wiesel met in Israel. Wiesel's first book, And the World Has Remained Silent, was published in Yiddish in 1956. The abridged, autobiographical version, Night, was published in Paris in 1958. Since then it has been translated into eighteen languages and is his best-known work.

Wiesel traveled to the United States in 1956 to write about the United Nations. He was hit by a taxi cab in Times Square. Since he was unable to return to France to renew his residency papers, he instead applied for United States citizenship. He married another Holocaust survivor, Marion Erster Rose, in New York in 1969.

In 1976 Wiesel became the Andrew W. Mellen Professor in Humanities at Boston University. President Carter named him the chairman of the President's Commission on the Holocaust and the chairman of the U.S. Holocaust Memorial Council.

Wiesel has received numerous awards and honors. In 1986 alone he was awarded the Nobel Peace Prize, the Freedom Cup Award from the Women's League for Israel, the Jacob Javits Humanitarian Award of the UJA Young Leadership, and the Medal of Liberty. He holds membership in many societies including the Authors League, a lifetime membership in the Foreign Press Association, American Gathering of Jewish Holocaust Survivors, and the Writers and Artists for Peace in the Middle East. He continues to write and speak for peace and the humanitarian treatment of all peoples.

INTRODUCTION  Night

This unit has been designed to develop students' reading, writing, thinking, listening and speaking skills through exercises and activities related to Night by Elie Wiesel. It includes seventeen lessons, supported by extra resource materials.

The introductory lesson introduces students to background information about places, people, and events mentioned throughout this novel. Since being familiar with the world events at the time of the novel is essential for full understanding, the students will begin the unit with a short research project. This project is used as the first writing assignment and the nonfiction assignment.

The reading assignments are approximately twenty pages each; some are a little shorter while others are a little longer. Students have approximately 15 minutes of pre-reading work to do prior to each reading assignment. This pre-reading work involves reviewing the study questions for the assignment and doing some vocabulary work for 8 to 10 vocabulary words they will encounter in their reading.

The study guide questions are fact-based questions; students can find the answers to these questions right in the text. These questions come in two formats: short answer or multiple choice. The best use of these materials is probably to use the short answer version of the questions as study guides for students (since answers will be more complete), and to use the multiple choice version for occasional quizzes. It might be a good idea to make transparencies of your answer keys for the overhead projector.

The vocabulary work is intended to enrich students' vocabularies as well as to aid in the students' understanding of the book. Prior to each reading assignment, students will complete a two-part worksheet for approximately 8 to 10 vocabulary words in the upcoming reading assignment. Part I focuses on students' use of general knowledge and contextual clues by giving the sentence in which the word appears in the text. Students are then to write down what they think the words mean based on the words' usage. Part II gives students dictionary definitions of the words and has them match the words to the correct definitions based on the words' contextual usage. Students should then have an understanding of the words when they meet them in the text.

After each reading assignment, students will go back and formulate answers for the study guide questions. Discussion of these questions serves as a review of the most important events and ideas presented in the reading assignments.

After students complete extra discussion questions, there is a vocabulary review lesson which pulls together all of the separate vocabulary lists for the reading assignments and gives students a review of all of the words they have studied.

Following the reading of the book, a lesson is devoted to the extra discussion questions/writing assignments. These questions focus on interpretation, critical analysis and personal response, employing a variety of thinking skills and adding to the students' understanding of the book. These questions are done either independently or as a group activity. Using the information they have acquired so far through individual work and class discussions, students get together to further examine the text and to brainstorm ideas relating to the themes of the novel.

The group activity is followed by a reports and discussion session in which the groups share their ideas about the book with the entire class; thus, the entire class gets exposed to many different ideas regarding the themes and events of the book.

There are three writing assignments in this unit, each with the purpose of informing, persuading, or having students express personal opinions. The first assignment is to inform: students will write a research report on some aspect of the Holocaust or World War II. The second assignment is to express a personal opinion: students will keep a response journal while they read. The third assignment is to persuade: students will either persuade the Wiesel family to take refuge with their former servant, or persuade Mr. Wiesel and Elie to stay in the hospital when the camp is evacuated.

Students will use one of their research sources for Writing Assignment #1 to fulfill the requirements for the nonfiction reading assignment. Students will fill out a worksheet on which they answer questions regarding facts, interpretation, criticism, and personal opinions. During one class period, students make oral presentations about the nonfiction pieces they have read. This not only exposes all students to a wealth of information, it also gives students the opportunity to practice public speaking.

The review lesson pulls together all of the aspects of the unit. The teacher is given four or five choices of activities or games to use which all serve the same basic function of reviewing all of the information presented in the unit.

The unit test comes in two formats: all multiple choice-matching-true/false or with a mixture of matching, short answer, and composition. As a convenience, two different tests for each format have been included.

There are additional support materials included with this unit. The unit and vocabulary resource materials sections include suggestions for an in-class library, crossword and word search puzzles related to the novel, and extra vocabulary worksheets. There is a list of bulletin board ideas which gives the teacher suggestions for bulletin boards to go along with this unit. In addition, there is a list of extra class activities the teacher could choose from to enhance the unit or as a substitution for an exercise the teacher might feel is inappropriate for his/her class. Answer keys are located directly after the reproducible student materials throughout the unit. The student materials may be reproduced for use in the teacher's classroom without infringement of copyrights. No other portion of this unit may be reproduced without the written consent of Teacher's Pet Publications, Inc.

2. Describe Elie Wiesel's father. What was his occupation?
   He was cultured and unsentimental. He had more concern for outsiders than for his own family. He and his wife were storekeepers.

3. Why was Moshe the Beadle important to Elie Wiesel?
   Moshe became his cabbalist, or instructor in the mystical aspects of the Jewish faith.

4. Summarize the story Moshe the Beadle told on his return from being deported. Why did he say he had returned to Sighet?
   He and the other foreign Jews had been taken by train through Hungary and into Poland. They were taken to a forest and made to dig graves. Then the Gestapo killed them. Moshe escaped because he had been mistaken for dead, although he was just wounded. He said he returned to tell the Jews to prepare themselves before it was too late.

5. What was the public reaction to Moshe's story?
   People refused to believe him. Some would not even listen to him. They said he just wanted their pity.

6. What was the setting and the year for the first section of the book? What was the world condition at the time?
   The year was 1942. The story started out in the town of Sighet in Transylvania. World War II was in progress. The author mentions 1943, then describes events in 1944. The Fascist party had taken power.

7. Describe, in order, the events that happened from the last day of Passover until Pentecost.
   On the seventh day of Passover the Germans arrested the Jewish community leaders. The Jewish residents were not allowed to leave their houses for three days. At the end of the three days the Jews had to start wearing the yellow star. Then two ghettos were set up. On the Saturday before Pentecost, Stern attended an extraordinary meeting of the council. When he returned he told the others they were all to be deported, starting the next day.
8. How did Wiesel say he felt about the Hungarian police?
   He said he began to hate them because they were his and his community's first oppressors.

9. Who was Martha? What happened when she visited the Wiesel family in the ghetto?
   Martha was a former servant of the Wiesel family. She visited the family in the ghetto and offered them safe refuge in her village. Elie's father refused to leave. He told Elie and his sisters they could go, but they refused to be separated.

Sections 2, 3, pages 21-43

1. To what did Wiesel compare the world?

   Some of the young men tied her up and gagged her. Then they hit her. The others encouraged the young men.

   the dead for themselves.

10. What did Elie do when the gypsy struck his father? Why? What was his father's response?
    He did not do anything. He felt remorse, and thought he would never forgive the gypsy.

    They were at Auschwitz for about three weeks. Then they went to Buna.

Section 4, pages 45-62

   He felt strong, and said he had stopped pleading. He was not able to feel sorrow. He observed the prayer service like a stranger.

3. What was Elie's decision about fasting on Yom Kippur? Why did he make that decision?
   He did not fast. One reason was because his father had forbidden him to fast. The other reason was that he saw his gesture as an act of rebellion against God.

4. What was Elie's "inheritance" from his father? Why was his father giving it to him?
   The inheritance was a knife and spoon. Mr. Wiesel had been selected. He was giving his only possessions to his son before his death.

   No, they did not.

6. What did Elie dream of when he dreamed of a better world?
   He imagined a world with no bells.

   They were liberated by the Russians two days after the others left.

2. What did Elie realize about Rabbi Eliahou and his son?
   He realized that the son had been trying to lose his father as the men were all running during the evacuation. At the same time, the Rabbi was looking for his son.

3. What was the name of the camp to which the men walked?

The next morning Juliek was dead and the violin had been trampled.

PROMPT
You are reading about the events that took place in the life of one teen-aged boy, Elie Wiesel. The setting for the autobiographical sketch is Europe in the years between 1941 and 1945. In order to better understand the terrible things that happened to him and millions of other people, you must first understand what the world was like at that time.

PREWRITING
Your teacher may assign a topic or allow you to choose one. You will then go to the library to research the topic. Look for encyclopedias, books, magazine articles, videos, and Internet sources. You may want to interview an expert on the topic of your choice.

Think of questions you have about your topic. Write each one on a separate index card. Then read to find the answers, and write them on the cards. Also take notes on interesting and important facts, even if you did not have questions about them. Put each fact on a separate card. Make sure to cite your references. That means to write down the title of the book or article, the author, and the page number for each one.

Arrange your note card in the order you want to use for your paper. Number them, perhaps in the upper right hand corner. Read through them to make sure they make sense in that order. Rearrange as necessary.

DRAFTING
Introduce your topic in the first paragraph. Tell why you chose it, and give a preview of what the rest of the paper will be about. Then write several paragraphs about the topic. Each paragraph should have a main idea and supporting details. Your last paragraph should summarize the information in the report.

PEER CONFERENCE/REVISING
When you finish the rough draft, ask another student to look at it. You may want to give the student your note cards so he/she can double check for you and see that you have included all of the information. After reading, he or she should tell you what he/she liked best about your report, which parts were difficult to understand or needed more information, and ways in which your work could be improved. Reread your report considering your critic's comments and make the corrections you think are necessary.

PROOFREADING/EDITING
Do a final proofreading of your report, double-checking your grammar, spelling, organization, and the clarity of your ideas.

   2. What did you do to help yourself understand the words?

III. Interpretation: What was the main point the author wanted you to get from reading his/her work?

IV. Criticism:
   1. Which points of the piece did you agree with or find easy to believe? Why?

   2. With which points of the piece did you disagree or find difficult to believe? Why?

V. Personal Response:
   1. What do you think about this piece?

   2. How does this piece help you better understand the novel Night?
LESSON TWO

Student Objectives
1. To continue doing library research for the nonfiction assignment
2. To write to inform

Activity #1
Either take the students to the library or give them time in class to work on their research projects.

Activity #2
While the writing conferences are scheduled for Lesson Three, you may want to begin them during Lesson Two if some of the students are ready. Establish a quiet section of the room for the conferences.

LESSON THREE

Student Objectives
1. To participate in a writing conference with the teacher
2. To revise the nonfiction assignment based on the suggestions made during the writing conference

Activity #1
Choose a quiet location in the room to hold the writing conferences.

Activity #2
Students should be working independently on their research projects when they are not conferencing.
LESSON FOUR

Objectives

1. To widen the breadth of students' knowledge about the topics discussed or touched upon in Night
2. To check students' non-fiction assignments

Activity

Ask each student to give a brief oral report about the nonfiction work he/she read for the nonfiction assignment. Your criteria for evaluating this report will vary depending on the level of your students. You may wish for students to give a complete report without using notes of any kind, or you may want students to read directly from a written report, or you may want to do something in between these two extremes. Just make students aware of your criteria in ample time for them to prepare their reports.

Start with one student's report. After that, ask if anyone else in the class has read on a topic related to the first student's report. If no one has, choose another student at random. After each report, be sure to ask if anyone has a report related to the one just completed. That will help keep a continuity during the discussion of the reports.
LESSON FIVE

Student Objectives
1. To preview the Night Unit
2. To receive books and other related materials (study guides, reading assignment)
3. To relate prior knowledge to the new material
4. To become familiar with the vocabulary for Section 1
5. To preview the study questions for Chapters Section 1
6. To read Section 1

Activity #1
Distribute the materials students will use in this unit. Explain in detail how students are to use these materials.

   Study Guides Students should preview the study guide questions before each reading assignment to get a feeling for what events and ideas are important in that section. After reading the section, students will (as a class or individually) answer the questions to review the important events and ideas from that section of the book. Students should keep the study guides as study materials for the unit test.

   Reading Assignment Sheet You need to fill in the reading assignment sheet to let students know when their reading has to be completed. You can either write the assignment sheet on a side blackboard or bulletin board and leave it there for students to see each day, or you can duplicate copies for each student to have. In either case, you should advise students to become very familiar with the reading assignments so they know what is expected of them.

   Unit Outline You may find it helpful to distribute copies of the Unit Outline to your students so they can keep track of upcoming lessons and assignments. You may also want to post a copy of the Unit Outline on a bulletin board and cross off each lesson as you complete it.

   Extra Activities Center The resource portions of this unit contain suggestions for a library of related books and articles in your classroom as well as crossword and word search puzzles. Make an extra activities center in your room where you will keep these materials for students to use. Bring the books and articles in from the library and keep several copies of the puzzles on hand. Explain to students that these materials are available for students to use when they finish reading assignments or other class work early.

   Books Each school has its own rules and regulations regarding student use of school books. Advise students of the procedures that are normal for your school.
Notebook or Unit Folder You may want the students to keep all of their worksheets, notes, and other papers for the unit together in a binder or notebook. During the first class meeting, tell them how you want them to arrange the folder. Make divider pages for vocabulary worksheets, prereading study guide questions, review activities, notes, and tests. You may want to give a grade for accuracy in keeping the folder.

Activity #2
Do a group KWL Sheet with the students (form included.) Students should know something about the Holocaust after completing the research projects, and will have information to share. Put this information in the K column (What I Know.) Ask students what they want to find out from reading Night and record this in the W column (What I Want to Find Out.) Keep the sheet and refer back to it after reading the book. Complete the L column (What I Learned) at that time.

Activity #4
Work through the prereading vocabulary worksheet for Section 1 with the students. Tell them they will have a sheet like this to complete before reading each section of the book.

Activity #5
Show students how to preview the study questions for Section 1 of Night. Encourage students to predict what they think answers might be, to write down their predictions, and to compare these with their answers after reading the chapters.

Activity #6
Begin reading Section 1 aloud to the class. Invite willing students to continue reading aloud until the end of the class period. Tell students to complete the reading before the next class meeting.
KWL Night

Directions: Before reading, think about what you already know about Night and/or Elie Wiesel. Write the information in the K column. Think about what you would like to find out from reading the book. Write your questions in the W column. After you have read the book, use the L column to write the answers to your questions from the W column, and anything else you remember from the book.

LESSON SIX

Student Objectives
1. To review the main ideas and themes in Section 1
2. To discuss the mood and tone of the book
3. To begin Writing Assignment #2

Activity #1
Discuss the answers to the Study Guide questions for Section 1 in detail. Write the answers on the board or overhead projector so students can have the correct answers for study purposes. Encourage students to take notes. If the students own their books, encourage them to use highlighter pens to mark important passages and the answers to the study guide questions.

Note: It is a good practice in public speaking and leadership skills for individual students to take charge of leading the discussion of the study questions. Perhaps a different student could go to the front of the class and lead the discussion each day that the study questions are discussed during this unit. Of course, the teacher should guide the discussion when appropriate and be sure to fill in any gaps the students leave.

Activity #2 Minilesson: Mood
The mood or tone of a story is the author's attempt to create the atmosphere of story. The mood evokes an emotional response from the reader and lets the reader know how the characters feel. It may stay the same throughout a story, or it may change, depending on circumstances and events. The author's descriptions and the characters' dialogue and actions express the mood of the story. Mood can be stated or implied.

Ask the students to give their impressions of the mood conveyed by the title and jacket artwork. Have them reread the first section of the book to see where and how the mood changes from relatively pleasant to fearful. Make a list of words that Wiesel uses to invoke a certain mood. You may want to keep this as a chart or bulletin board that students can add to throughout the unit. Tell students to keep the mood of the book in mind as they read. They will have the opportunity to discuss mood again during Lesson Thirteen.
Activity #3  (Writing Assignment #2)

Tell students they will be keeping a sketchbook-journal as Writing Assignment #2. Explain that a sketchbook-journal is a combination of sketches about and written responses to the story. They will be required to make an entry for each chapter in the novel.

Students can sketch memorable scenes from the chapters, or paste in magazine pictures that remind them of the events in the chapter.

The written entries should focus on each student's response to the literature, and should not merely be a plot summary. They should include comments about their thoughts and feelings while reading, any questions they have, and predictions for the next chapter. For Night, encourage them to write about the mood of the story.

It is up to the individual teacher to decide how to grade or respond to the journals, and whether to have students share them with the class or keep them private.
WRITING ASSIGNMENT #2 Night
Journal Writing to Express a Personal Opinion

PROMPT
For this unit, you will be asked to keep a sketchbook-journal. This is a combination of sketches about and written responses to a story. You will be required to make an entry for each chapter in the novel.

First, decide on the format for your sketchbook-journal. Spend some time decorating your cover and setting up the book. Make sure to include the title of each chapter and the page numbers in your copy of the book. Also date each entry.

You can sketch memorable scenes from the chapters, paste in magazine pictures, or use computer clip art. Even if you do not consider yourself a good artist, try to make some sketches. Use colors that remind you of the mood of the story. You may want to take photographs and put them in the sketchbook-journal.

The written entries should focus on your response to the literature, and should not merely be chapter summaries. They should include comments about your thoughts and feelings while reading, any questions you have, and predictions about the next chapter. Try to write at least one page for each entry. You, your classmates, and your teacher will decide whether to share the journals or keep them private.

Here are some suggestions for the types of entries you may want to make.

LESSON SEVEN

Student Objectives
1. To become familiar with the vocabulary for Sections 2 and 3
2. To preview the study questions for Sections 2 and 3
3. To practice correct intonation and expression in oral reading
4. To read from Sections 2 and 3 orally for evaluation

Activity #1
Give students ten or fifteen minutes to complete the prereading vocabulary worksheet and preview the study questions.

Activity #2
Tell students their oral reading ability will be evaluated. Show them copies of the Oral Reading Evaluation Form and discuss it. Model correct intonation and expression by reading the first few paragraphs of Section 2 aloud.

Activity #3
Call on individual students to read a few paragraphs aloud. Encourage the other students to follow along silently in their books. If you have a student who is unwilling or unable to read in front of the group make arrangements to do his or her evaluation privately at another time.

Activity #4
Tell students to have answers for the study questions prepared for the next class meeting.

COMMENTS:
LESSON EIGHT

Student Objectives
1. To discuss the main ideas and events in Sections 2 and 3
2. To become familiar with the vocabulary for Section 4
3. To preview the study questions for Section 4
4. To identify the types of conflict in the novel
5. To read Section 4

Activity #1
Give each student four 1"x2" strips of colored paper or index cards—one blue, one yellow, one green, one pink. Have them put a large letter A on the blue paper, B on the yellow, C on the green, and D on the pink. Make an overhead transparency of the Multiple Choice/Quiz questions for Sections 2 and 3. Ask a student to read the first question out loud. Have each student hold up the colored paper strip for their answer. Encourage students to reread if necessary to find the correct answers.

Activity #2
Have students work with partners to complete the prereading vocabulary worksheet and preview the study questions.

Activity #3
Activity #2 Minilesson: Conflict
Tell students that conflict is one of the most important aspects of a story. The conflict usually is an obstacle to the main character's goal. It usually brings about some type of change in the main character. The types of conflict that are evident in Night are character vs. nature, character vs. character, character vs. himself, and character vs. society.

You may want to use examples from stories the students have previously read, or examples from literature for younger children to illustrate the various types of conflict. Dorothy in The Wizard of Oz has a conflict with nature because the tornado takes her away from her home. The conflict between Cinderella and her wicked step-mother is an example of character vs. character. In The Little Engine That Could, the little engine is not sure of its ability to take the train over the mountain, illustrating the character vs. himself conflict. The Greek myth of Atalanta illustrates character vs. society or the environment. Atalanta was expected to marry the man her father chose, but she did not wish to do so.

Have students begin filling out the Conflict Chart after they have read Section 3. Discuss their findings. Encourage them to look for more examples of conflict as they read. Tell them they will discuss conflict again in Lesson Thirteen.

LESSON NINE

Student Objectives
1. To identify examples of figurative language in the story so far
2. To become familiar with the vocabulary for Section 5
3. To preview the study questions for Section 5

Activity #1 Minilesson: Figures of Speech
Figures of speech are literary devices that give the writer a non-literal way to describe images and events. Use the following chart to give examples of the different figures of speech. (You may want to make an overhead transparency, or duplicate the chart for each student.) Then write physically he was as awkward as a clown on the board. (this is Elie Wiesel's description of Moshe the Beadle on page 1 of the book.) Ask students to identify the type of figure of speech (simile.) Talk about the literal meaning. Distribute the Figure of Speech worksheet and have students work in small groups to find examples in the novel. If you want the students to continue recording examples in the remaining chapters, assign a due date for the worksheet.

Activity #2
Give students about ten or fifteen minutes to complete the prereading vocabulary worksheets and go over the study questions for Section 5.

LESSON TEN

Student Objectives
1. To read Section 5 with a partner
2. To discuss the main ideas and events in Section 5

Activity #1
Assign or let students choose partners. Have them read Section 5 aloud together quietly.

Activity #2
Divide students into ten groups. Assign each group one of the study questions to research and answer for the class.
Figures of speech are literary devices that give the writer a non-literal way to describe images and events. They are comparisons that help the reader create a mental image of a character or a situation.

LESSON ELEVEN

Student Objectives
1. To become familiar with the vocabulary for Sections 6-9
2. To preview the study questions for Sections 6-9
3. To read Sections 6-9

Activity #1
Give students about ten minutes to complete the prereading vocabulary worksheet.

Activity #2
Distribute copies of the multiple choice study questions for Sections 6-9. Have students circle their predicted answers before reading the text.

LESSON TWELVE

Student Objectives
1. To discuss the main ideas and events in Sections 6-9
2. To chronicle the events sequentially

Activity #1
Go over the answers to the multiple choice study questions. Use the short answer questions as well if you want to get into more detail about the events concerning Juliek, Meir Katz, and the death of Elie Wiesel's father.

Activity #2 Minilesson: Sequence
In an autobiographical sketch such as Night, the sequence of events is very important. Since so many dates are given, it is relatively easy to follow the sequence of events in Night. Use a roll of shelf or art paper to make a large time line of the events in the book. For advanced students, assign each section of the book to a small group. Have the group write each important event on an index card and paste it in the correct place on the time line. For average classes, work with the whole class and guide them in finding and recording the major events. For students who need extra assistance, make up cards with the major dates and events listed, one per card. Distribute the cards to the students and have them put the cards in order on the class time line. Show them how to skim and reread to find the dates and events in the book. Encourage students to make illustrations to go with the time line.
Lesson Thirteen

Student Objective
To discuss Night at the interpretive and critical levels

Activity #1
Choose the questions from the Extra Writing Assignments/Discussion Questions which seem most appropriate for your students. A class discussion of these questions is most effective if students have been given the opportunity to formulate answers to the questions prior to the discussion. To this end, you may either have all the students formulate answers to all the questions, divide the class into groups and assign one or more questions to each group, or you could assign one question to each student in your class. The option you choose will make a difference in the amount of class time needed for this activity.

Activity #2
After students have had ample time to formulate answers to the questions, begin your class discussion of the questions and the ideas presented by the questions. Be sure students take notes during the discussion so they have information to study for the unit test.

Lesson Fourteen

Student Objective
To write a persuasive essay

Activity #1
Distribute copies of Writing Assignment #3. Discuss it in detail and make sure the students understand what to do.

Activity #2
Allow the rest of the class period for students to work on the assignment.

Option
You may want to let students work with a partner or a small group for this assignment. If so, make sure they understand that they will receive the same grade.

Activity #3
If time permits, invite students to role play and give their persuasive speeches in class.

35. What was the saddest part of the story?

36. What do you remember most about the story?

37. What picture did the author leave in your mind?

38. What did the book make you think about?
1. "Man raises himself toward God by the questions he asks Him," he was fond of repeating. "That is the true dialogue. Man questions God and God answers. But we don't understand His answers. We can't understand them. Because they come from the depths of the soul and they stay there until death. You will find the true answers, Eliezer, only within yourself!"

2. "Jews, listen to me. It's all I ask of you. I don't want money or pity. Only listen to me."

3. "You don't understand," he said in despair. "You can't understand. I have been saved miraculously. I managed to get back here. Where did I get the strength from? I wanted to come back to Singhet to tell you the story of my death, so that you could prepare yourselves while there was still time. To live? I don't attach any importance to my life any more. I'm alone. No, I wanted to come back, and to warn you. And see how it is, no one will listen to me."

4. People said, "The Russian army's making gigantic strides forward. . . . Hitler won't be able to do us any harm, even if he wants to."

5. "The yellow star? Oh, well, what of it? You don't die of it . . . ."

6. "Get up, sir, get up! You've got to get ready for the journey! You're going to be expelled from here tomorrow with your whole family, and all the rest of the Jews. Where to? Don't ask me, sir. Don't ask me any questions. Only God could answer you. For heaven's sake, get up."

7. "Oh, God, Lord of the Universe, take pity upon us in Thy great mercy. . . ."

8. "You can go if you want to. I shall stay here with your mother and the child."

9. "Who knows? Perhaps we are being deported for our own good. The front isn't very far off; we shall soon be able to hear the guns. And then the civilian population would be evacuated anyway. . . ."

10. "Look! Look at it! Fire! A terrible fire! Mercy! Oh, that fire! Jews, listen to me! I can see a fire! There are huge flames! It is a furnace!"

11. "Men to the left! Women to the right!"

13. "Let the world learn of the existence of Auschwitz. Let everybody hear about it, while they can still escape. . . ."

14. "Humanity? Humanity is not concerned with us. Today anything is allowed. Anything is possible, even these crematories."

15. "Remember this. Remember it forever. Engrave it into your minds. You are at Auschwitz. And Auschwitz is not a convalescent home. It's a concentration camp. Here, you have got to work. If not, you will go straight to the furnace. To the crematory. Work or the crematory--the choice is in your hands."

16. "Bite your lip, little brother. . . . don't cry. Keep your anger and your hatred for another day, for later on. The day will come, but not now. . . . Wait. Grit your teeth and wait."

17. "God is testing us. He wants to find out whether we can dominate our base instincts and kill the Satan within us. We have no right to despair. And if he punishes us relentlessly, it's a sign that He loves us all the more."

18. "Am I Jewish? Yes, I am Jewish. From a religious family. During the occupation I obtained forged papers and passed myself off as an Aryan. That's how I was enlisted in the forced labor groups, and when I was deported to Germany, I escaped the concentration camp. At the warehouse, no one knew I could speak German. That would have aroused suspicions. Saying those few words to you was risky; but I knew you wouldn't give me away."

19. "They're bombing Buna!"

20. "Long live liberty! A curse upon Germany! A curse. . . . A cur--"

21. "Where is He? Here He is--He is hanging here on the gallows."

22. "What are You, my God," I thought angrily, "compared to this afflicted crowd, proclaiming to You their faith, their anger, their revolt? What does Your greatness mean, Lord of the universe, in the face of all this weakness, this decomposition, and this decay? Why do You still trouble their sick minds, their crippled bodies?"

23. "It's the end. God is no longer with us."

24. "I've got more faith in Hitler than in anyone else. He's the only one who's kept his promises, all his promises, to the Jewish people."
25. "Don't think. Don't stop. Run."

26. "Perhaps someone has seen my son somewhere?"

27. "No! He isn't dead! Not yet!"

28. "Why don't they shoot us all right away?"

29. "Listen to me, boy. Don't forget that you're in a concentration camp. Here, every man has to fight for himself and not think of anyone else. Even of his father. Here, there are no fathers, no brothers, no friends. Everyone lives and dies for himself alone. I'll give you a sound piece of advice--don't give your ration of bread and soup to your old father. There's nothing you can do for him. And you're killing yourself. Instead, you ought to be having his ration."
WRITING ASSIGNMENT #3  Night
Writing to Persuade

PROMPT
Four times in the novel, Elie Wiesel describes times he and his family might have been saved, had they made a different decision. First, Moshe the Beadle tried to convince the Jews of Singhet to flee from the coming persecution, but no one listened to him. Then, Elie tried to convince his father to sell the business and emigrate to Palestine. Later, the Wiesel family refused the safe refuge offered by their former servant, Martha. When Elie and his father were given the choice to stay at the camp hospital or be evacuated with the other prisoners, they chose to stay with the others. Your assignment is to choose one of these opportunities and convince the Wiesel family to make the opposite decision of the one they made.

PREWRITING
Make a list of the reasons you want the family to leave Singhet, go with Martha, or stay at the hospital. Think of statements to support each of your reasons, and list them under each reason. You can also include reasons you disagree with them. Then number the reasons in order from most to least important.

DRAFTING
Make an introductory statement in which you state the problem (the Wiesel family and the other Jewish residents/prisoners are in grave danger.) Then offer your solution. Use one paragraph for each of your reasons. Use supporting statements for each reason. Include examples, facts, and feelings that support your position. Write a closing paragraph that restates your request and summarizes your arguments.

PEER CONFERENCING/REVISIING
When you finish the rough draft, ask another student to look at it. You may want to give the student your notes so he/she can double check for you and see that you have included all of the information. After reading, he or she should tell you what he/she liked best about your persuasive essay, which parts were difficult to understand or needed more information, and ways in which your work could be improved. Reread your persuasive essay considering your critic's comments and make the corrections you think are necessary.

PROOFREADING/EDITING
Do a final proofreading of your persuasive essay, double-checking your grammar, spelling, organization, and the clarity of your ideas.

FINAL DRAFT/PUBLISHING
Complete the final draft according to your teacher's instructions.
LESSON SIXTEEN

Student Objective
To review all of the vocabulary work done in this unit

VOCABULARY REVIEW ACTIVITIES
1. Divide your class into two teams and have an old-fashioned spelling or definition bee.

2. Give individuals or groups of students a Vocabulary Word Search Puzzle from the Vocabulary Resource section. The person (group) to find all of the vocabulary words in the puzzle first wins.

3. Give students a Vocabulary Word Search Puzzle without the word list. The person or group to find the most vocabulary words in the puzzle wins.

4. Put a Vocabulary Crossword Puzzle onto a transparency on the overhead projector and do the puzzle together as a class.

5. Give students a Vocabulary Matching, Multiple Choice, or Magic Square worksheet to do.

6. Use words from the word jumble page and have students spell them correctly.

7. Have students write a story in which they correctly use as many vocabulary words as possible. Have students read their compositions orally. Post the most original compositions on your bulletin board.

8. Have students work in teams and play charades with the vocabulary words.

9. Select a word of the day and encourage students to use it correctly in their writing and speaking vocabulary.

10. Have a contest to see which students can find the most vocabulary words used in other sources. You may want to have a bulletin board available so the students can write down their word, the sentence it was used in, and the source.

11. Assign a word to each student, or let them choose a word. Have them look up the origin of the word, the part of speech, definition, a synonym, and an antonym. Then have them write a sentence using the word. Have students present their information orally to the class, or have them design a word map on paper and display the papers.
LESSON SIXTEEN

Objective
To review the main ideas presented in Night

Activity #1
Choose one of the review games/activities included in the packet and spend your class period as outlined there.

Activity #2
Remind students of the date for the Unit Test. Stress the review of the Study Guides and their class notes as a last minute, brush-up review for homework.

REVIEW GAMES / ACTIVITIES

1. Ask the class to make up a unit test for Night. The test should have 4 sections: multiple choice, true/false, short answer and essay. Students may use 1/2 period to make the test, including a separate answer sheet, and then swap papers and use the other 1/2 class period to take a test a classmate has devised. (open book)

2. Take 1/2 period for students to make up true and false questions (including the answers). Collect the papers and divide the class into two teams. Draw a big tic-tac-toe board on the chalk board. Make one team X and one team O. Ask questions to each side, giving each student one turn. If the question is answered correctly, that student's team's letter (X or O) is placed in the box. If the answer is incorrect, no mark is placed in the box. The object is to get three marks in a row like tic-tac-toe. You may want to keep track of the number of games won for each team.

3. Take 1/2 period for students to make up questions (true/false and short answer). Collect the questions. Divide the class into two teams. You'll alternate asking questions to individual members of teams A & B (like in a spelling bee). The question keeps going from A to B until it is correctly answered, then a new question is asked. A correct answer does not allow the team to get another question. Correct answers are +2 points; incorrect answers are -1 point.

4. Allow students time to quiz each other (in pairs) from their study guides and class notes.

5. Give students a crossword puzzle from the Night Unit Resources packet to complete.
7. Divide your class into two teams. Use the crossword words with their letters jumbled as a word list. Student 1 from Team A faces off against Student 1 from Team B. You write the first jumbled word on the board. The first student (1A or 1B) to unscramble the word wins the chance for his/her team to score points. If 1A wins the jumble, go to student 2A and give him/her a clue. He/she must give you the correct word which matches that clue. If he/she does, Team A scores a point, and you give student 3A a clue for which you expect another correct response. Continue giving Team A clues until some team member makes an incorrect response. An incorrect response sends the game back to the jumbled-word face off, this time with students 2A and 2B. Instead of repeating giving clues to the first few students of each team, continue with the student after the one who gave the last incorrect response on the team.

8. Take on the persona of "The Answer Person." Allow students to ask any question about the book. Answer the questions, or tell students where to look in the book to find the answer.

9. Students may enjoy playing charades with events from the story. Select a student to start. Give him/her a card with a scene or event from the story. Allow the players to use their books to find the scene being described. The first person to guess each charade performs the next one.

10. Play a categories-type quiz game. (A master is included in this Unit Plan). Make an overhead transparency of the categories form. Divide the class into teams of three or four players each. Have each team Choose a recorder and a banker. Choose a team to go first. That team will choose a category and point amount. Ask the question to the entire class. (Use the Study Guide Quiz and Vocabulary questions.) Give the teams one minute to discuss the answer and write it down. Walk around the room and check the answers. Each team that answers correctly receives the points. (Incorrect answers are not penalized; they just don't receive any points). Cross out that square on the playing board. Play continues until all squares have been used. The winning team is the one with the most points. You can assign bonus points to any square or squares you choose. An alternative form of play is to give each student a copy of the game form. They write their individual answers on the form and total their points at the end. You can give prizes to those with the highest scores, or translate the scores into quiz grades.

11. Have individual students draw scenes from the book. Display the scenes and have the rest of the class look in their books to find the chapter or section that is being depicted. The first student to find the correct scene then displays his or her picture. When the game is over, collect the pictures and put them in a binder for students to look at during their free time.

NOTE: If students do not need the extra review, omit this lesson and go on to the test.
LESSON EIGHTEEN

Objective
To test the students' understanding of the main ideas and themes in Night

Activity #1
Distribute the Night Unit Tests. Go over the instructions in detail and allow the students the entire class period to complete the exam.

Activity #2
Collect all test papers and assigned books prior to the end of the class period.

UNIT TESTS
NOTES ABOUT THE UNIT TESTS IN THIS UNIT:

There are 5 different unit tests which follow.

There are two short answer tests which are based primarily on facts from the novel. The answer key for short answer unit test 1 follows the student test. The answer key for short answer test 2 follows the student short answer unit test 2.

There is one advanced short answer unit test. It is based on the extra discussion questions. Use the matching key for short answer unit test 2 to check the matching section of the advanced short answer unit test. There is no key for the short answer questions. The answers will be based on the discussions you have had during class.

There are two multiple choice unit tests. Following the two unit tests, you will find an answer sheet on which students should mark their answers. The same answer sheet should be used for both tests; however, students' answers will be different for each test. Following the students' answer sheet for the multiple choice tests you will find your answer keys.

The short answer tests have a vocabulary section. You should choose 10 of the vocabulary words from this unit, read them orally and have the students write them down. Then, either have students write a definition or use the words in sentences. The second part of the vocabulary test is matching.

   He and the other foreign Jews had been taken by train through Hungary and into Poland. They were taken to a forest and made to dig graves. Then the Gestapo killed them. Moshe escaped because he had been mistaken for dead, although he was just wounded. He said he returned to tell the Jews to prepare themselves before it was too late.

   Elie did not do anything to help his father. He was trying to keep from getting hit himself. He was angry at his father for not avoiding Idek's punishment.

4. What was Elie's decision about fasting on Yom Kippur? Why did he make that decision?
   He did not fast. One reason was because he father had forbidden him to fast. The other reason was that he saw his gesture as an act of rebellion against God.

5. Describe Elie's meeting with Juliek.
   The prisoners had arrived at Gleiwitz, and were moving into the barracks. Men were pushing and trampling over each other. Elie heard a voice that he recognized. It was Juliek, the musician from Warsaw who had played the violin at Buna. They spoke for a few seconds. Juliek then played a Beethoven concerto on his violin. The next morning Juliek was dead and the violin had been trampled.

UNIT RESOURCE MATERIALS
BULLETIN BOARD IDEAS  Night

1. Save one corner of the board for the best of students' writing assignments. You may want to use background maps of Europe to represent the setting of the novel.

2. Take one of the word search puzzles from the extra activities packet and with a marker copy it over in a large size on the bulletin board. Write the clue words to find to one side. Invite students prior to and after class to find the words and circle them on the bulletin board.

3. Have students find or draw pictures that they think resemble the people in the book.

4. Invite students to help make an interactive bulletin board quiz. Give each student a half-sheet of paper (about 4"x5") folded in half so that it can open. On the outside flap, have each student write a description of one of the characters in the text. On the inside, they will write the name of the character. You can staple or tack these papers to the bulletin board so that the students can read the descriptions and lift the flaps to find the answers.

5. Collect pictures of the area mentioned in the book.

6. Display articles about Elie Wiesel or the Holocaust.

7. Display a large map of Europe and have students mark the locations mentioned in the book.
One of the difficulties in teaching a novel is that all students don't read at the same speed. One student who likes to read may take the book home and finish it in a day or two. Sometimes a few students finish the in-class assignments early. The problem, then, is finding suitable extra activities for students.

Set up a library in the classroom. For this unit on Night, include other books by Elie Wiesel. There are also many other works dealing with World War II and the Holocaust that students could read. Several journals have critiques of Wiesel's works. Some of the students may enjoy reading these and responding either in writing or in discussion groups.

Your students who have reading difficulties, or speak English as a second language may benefit from listening to all or part of the book on tape.

Some students may like to draw. You might devise a contest or allow some extra-credit grade for students who draw characters or scenes from Night. Note, too, that if the students do not want to keep their drawings you may pick up some extra bulletin board materials this way. If you have a contest and you supply the prize. You could, possibly, make the drawing itself a non-refundable entry fee.

Have maps, a globe, and travel brochures on hand for easy reference. Travel agencies and automobile clubs are good sources for these materials.

The pages which follow contain games, puzzles, and worksheets. The keys, when appropriate, immediately follow the puzzle or worksheet. There are two main groups of activities: one group for the unit; that is, generally relating to the text, and another group of activities related strictly to the vocabulary. Directions for the games, puzzles, and worksheets are self-explanatory. The object here is to provide you with extra materials you may use in any way you choose.
1. Have students design a book cover (front and back and inside flaps) for Night.

2. Have students design a bulletin board (ready to be put up; not just sketched) for Night.

3. Use some of the related topics (noted earlier for an in-class library) as topics for research, reports, or written papers, or as topics for guest speakers.

4. Help students design and produce a talk show. Choose one of the story incidents as the topic. The host will interview the various characters. (Students should make up the questions they want the host to ask the characters.)

5. Have students work in pairs to create an interview with one of the characters. One student should be the interviewer and the other should be the interviewee. Students can work together to compose questions for the interviewer to ask. Each pair of students could present their interview to the class.

6. Invite students who have read other books by Elie Wiesel to present booktalks to the class.

7. Invite a member of a local synagogue to speak to the class about the Holocaust.

8. Have students hold small group discussions related to topics in the book. Assign a recorder and a speaker for each group. Have the speaker from each group make a report to the class.

9. Many areas now have museums dedicated to the Holocaust. If possible, visit one of these museums.
